GREETING

The Young Men's Christian Association of Central University gladly welcome you into the halls of this famous old institution. It is our hope that during your stay here that you may derive great benefit and that the year 1913-14 may see in you much growth, physically, intellectually and morally. The Association presents this handbook to each student that he may acquaint himself with the College life of Central. We trust that in this as well as in other ways this handbook may be of service to you.

OUR WEEKLY MEETING

is held every Friday morning at 10.15 in the College Chapel. Popular addresses are made by members of the student body.

Class Advisers

The system of class advisers has been organized to facilitate the registration of students, to guide the student in the choice and organization of his scheme of elective studies, and to bring each student of the College into close touch with the staff of instructors.

The Registrar, Prof. C. G. Crooks, will invariably act as class adviser for the Freshman Class. During the first week in February of each year the Freshman Class will have the privilege of electing from the members of the Faculty, the Class Adviser who will continue to serve the class in that capacity until the graduation of the class. Only the President and Registrar are not eligible for election.

Following are the Class Advisers of the respective Classes.

Senior—Dr. F. E. Clark.

About The College

The Central University of Kentucky as at present constituted is the result of a union in 1901 of Centre College at Danville and Central University of Kentucky at Richmond. The College is a very old one, Centre College having been founded in 1819. The College as it is today is the only non-co-educational institution in the State of Kentucky.

The College enjoys a wide reputation throughout the country, largely owing to the fact that the names of many distinguished men are found upon its roll. Hence, it is incumbent upon every student who enters these classic walls to uphold the traditions and standards of the past.

BUILDINGS

Main Building

This building contains three stories and a basement.

On the first floor are the museum and the biological lecture rooms and laboratories. The second floor contains the chapel and the Departments of English, Latin and Greek. On the Third floor are the halls and libraries of the literary societies.

Breckinridge Hall

This three story building contains the executive's offices, the lecture and class rooms of the Department of Modern Languages, a large Drawing Room and two separate halls furnishing dormitories equipped with every modern convenience.

Young Hall

This handsome building, completed in 1909, is a memorial to the distinguished presidents of Centre College, Dr. John C. Young and Dr. William Young.

The whole building is devoted to the work of the department of Mathematics, Chemistry and Physics and every student will find excellent equipment for the departments.

The Old College

The work of the college was conducted in this, the oldest building now upon the campus, until 1871. The building is used as a boarding hall and dormitory.

Gymnasium

Since the destruction by fire of the old Boyle-Humphrey Gymnasium the college has been without the use of such an important building. The alumni have recently subscribed twenty thousand dollars for a new structure.

Sayre Library

The College Library, consisting of about 22,000 volumes is for the present located in this building, which contains a large furnished reading room where students have access to the library and numerous magazines.

Cheek Field

This is the present Athletic Field and is situated immediately back of the main building. It is equipped with a gridiron, baseball diamond and quarter-mile track. All of the inter-collegiate games in Danville are played there.

The New Buildings

The men coming to Centre this year are permitted to see something which the old students have long been wishing to see, namely, the actual work of construction begin on the new gymnasium and Library. The burning of the old Gymnasium on April 1, 1912 made the need of a new gymnasium vastly more imperative. Since that time work has been going on continuously toward the securing of suitable plans, but they were not secured until the first of August, 1913. Now the contract has been let and the construction has begun and is being pushed forward rapidly so that we can have the gymnasium ready by the basket ball season. The Library will be completed some time later, the gym having the right of way in the matter of construction.

The Gym is being built directly behind the old library which is to be torn away upon the completion of the new Library. This building is to be erected on the site of the old Gym, the commanding position on the campus and is to be a handsome structure of two stories and is to be of brick with stone and terracotta trimmings.

The lower floor is to contain a large stock room in the rear, also the administration offices of the College, consisting of the President's office, with a private office also and the office of the Secretary and Treasurer. A faculty room, and two seminary rooms together with cool lobby and toilet room are also on this floor. The second floor contains the second tier of the stock room and also the large 30 by 88 reading room. This room contains ten reading tables. Between these two rooms is the delivery desk. The stock room can be made to accommodate 80,000 books and this as well as the building as a whole provides excellent and ample accomodations for all the various needs of a college library building.

The gymnasium will contain accomodations for both the athletic and social needs of the College. The basement will contain separate rooms and showers for both home and visiting teams, the offices of the Physical Director, measuring room, toilet and showers, heating plant, a large locker room and a base ball cage 80 by 24. The first floor will contain the gymnasium proper, 55 by 80 feet, providing ample space for all indoor games. This floor also contains a billiard room and a large lounging room.

The third floor will contain the upper part of the Gym and the running track and also a large assembly room for the students. This building is complete in every detail and is a building which will worthily look after the athietic and social side of Centre College.

Objects

The object of the Young Men's Christian Association is to promote the great cause of Christianity in the hearts of the students. It aims to help the student to solve the great problems of life and to attain a broad, above-board manhood. It believes in everything which will broaden a man and cause him to lead a clean life. In a word it tries to develop strong Christian character and efficiency and to administer to the needs of the students.

Membership

The active membership of the Association consists of students who are members in good standing of an evangelical church.

The associate membership consists of students of good moral character.

The membership dues are one dollar yearly and the membership card entitles the holder to special privileges in other associations.

Striking Facts About Young Men's Christian Association Work

The first Men's Christian Association was organized in London, June 6, 1844.

The first Y. M. C. A. in the United States was organized in Boston in 1851.

The first Y. M. C. A. in Kentucky was organized in Louisville in 1853.

There are now in the world 8,612 Associations with 971,833 members. In the United States and Canada there are 2,192 Associations with 563,479 members.

In the United States and Canada there are 3,900 employed officers giving their entire time to the work of the Y. M. C. A.

The value of the property owned by the Associations of the United States and Canada is over sixty million dollars.

Over eight million dollars is annually expended by the Associations in America in carrying on their work.

The only purpose of the Young Men's Christian Association is to develop all-round Christian manhood and boyhood. It everywhere stands loyal to this high purpose and has the hearty backing of the church and the business world in the conduct and enlargement of its work.

Has the Y. M. C. A. YOUR loyal support?

Why Join The Association?

The Association is the one comprehensive, evangelical student religious organization of the College, and as such should have the earnest support of Christian students.

The Association stands for the development of the well-rounded man. For the cultivation of a strong physique, the Association encourages and supports athletic sports; for the attainment of intellectual acumen the Association advocates diligent study; for the advancement of spiritual growth, the Association furnishes devotional meetings, Bible and Missionary study classes an opportunity for personal work among our fellows.

The Association will help to guard and develop his own spiritual life.

The Association promotes friendship, encourages college spirit and assists each individual student in taking a stand for the right.

Religious Services

Last year the faculty granted the fifteen minute chapel period on Friday with fifteen minutes additional on the Y. M. C. A. weekly meeting hour. The plan worked admirably as it was found to be a very satisfactory and convenient time for the students to attend. This year the same time will be utilized for the weekly devotional hour and it is to be hoped that every man who wishes to be spiritually strengthened by helpful talks from students, faculty members and others, will be present. There will always be fine talks and no student can afford to miss this meeting if he intends to be an all-round college man. Every Friday from 10.15 to 10.45.

Faculty Control of Athletics

On March 24, 1913, the members of the Athletic Association passed a resolution to the effect that from Commencement 1913 the control of student athletics pass from the Association and be vested in the faculty of the College until such a suitable plan of reorganization shall be prepared and adopted by those interested in the promotion of athletics among the students of Centre College. This means that during the year 1913-14 the Athletic Association will be practically abolished and the students relinquish all domination in Athletics. During the present year the coach will schedule all games and no student managers will be elected.

1912-13 Athletic Record

In accordance with the modern ideas of the large universities, the athletic life of the College is regarded as an important factor. Central is a member of both the Kentucky Intercollegiate and the Southern Intercollegiate Athletic Associations. Attention is given to the four major sports football, baseball, basketball and track. The rules and regulations of the Intercollegiate Associations require every member of every team to be purely amateur and a bona fide student of the College. No one may engage in intercollegiate athletics for more than four years. The services of an experienced athletic instructor is engaged, whose attention is entirely devoted to the coaching of the teams. Mr. Charles E. O'Brien served most admirably in that capacity last session and has been engaged for this year.

The teams were somewhat hampered last year by a lack of adequate equipment, owing to the loss of the gymnasium by fire on April 1, 1912. But as an exceptionally well-planned and well-equipped gymnasium is under construction and will be completed in a few months, this part of the athletic life will be cared for.

All of Central's teams are strong contenders for and frequent winners of the State Championship. The football team of 1910 shared with Vanderbilt the title of Champions of the South, both having beaten Sewanee by decisive scores. The basketball team of 1909 held the undisputed Championship of the South, defeating Vanderbilt easily in two games. These bright spots of history serve to exemplify Central's athletic prowess of the last few years.

Football

In the fall of 1912 it was found that by graduation and debilitating effect of time that our veterans of the last year's gridiron warriors were very scarce. Nor can it hardly be said that the said disadvantage was overcome by a promising abundance of new material. But with a masterful hand Coach O'Brien proceeded by use of some efficient eastern methods to whip the squad into shape. The team which he turned out was rather light but was fast and gritty. The showing against the strong Vanderbilt veterans showed the possibilities of the men. A large portion of the team will return next year and, aided by some expected from the high schools, will rival the best teams that have represented the College in the past.

Basket Ball

With three men as a nucleus and with the aid of two recruits, Coach O'Brien developed last year the speediest and most aggressive team which has represented Central since the days of the great Seelbachs. The schedule included eleven games, six of which resulted in victories for the Cardinal and Blue. Central lost two games by one point and was defeated for the State Championship in a close and hard fought contest. With four men returning, indications point to the dedication of the basketball floor in the new gymnasium with a championship team.

Baseball

The 1913 baseball season was a series of disappointments. The lack of money to enable the manager to schedule sufficient games, mischances, misunderstandings and misfortunes of all kinds militated against the team. Only a few games were scheduled with teams within the State and these resulted for the most part disastrously for Central. This year, with more games scheduled so as to provide an incentive for the men to make the team, and with harmony existing, a successful season may be expected.

Track

Last year's track team was hampered by lack of experienced material to work with and also by a lack of practice. In the Kentucky Intercollegiate Track Meet held at Georgetown, Central gained one point.

Literary Societies

At Central there are two Literary Societies which are loyally supported by the students. To the Literary Societies at college most men owe their versatile abilities of public speaking. For the societies at Central the college provides commodious halls, which are well kept up by the members. The work of the societies, which is regarded as supplemental to that of the class room, is encouraged accordingly. They meet in their respective halls and enjoy literary programs tendered by the members.

The Demologian Hall is located on the third floor, left wing of the Main Building. Meetings every Tuesday evening. Annual dues $2.

The Chamberlain Hall is located on the third floor, left wing of the Main Building. Meetings every Tuesday evening. Initiation fee $2, annual dues $1.

The Rounde Table

The Rounde Table is a scholarship society of advanced students and members of the faculty. It was instituted in the fall of 1907. It is intended to conserve and stimulate an interest in literary and humanistic subjects beyond the work of the class room. To this end, at the fortnightly meetings of the club, the members read and submit for discussion papers within the scope of the society's interests. Students who have completed with an excellent record in scholarship, two and one-half years of work, and who have shown an active interest in literary and humanistic subjects are eligible for membership.

German Club

The German Club is composed of the grade—A students of German. The organization aims at a fuller conception of civilization as a whole by awakening an active interest in the literary, political and social life of Europe. Papers are read dealing with subjects connected with modern language work in general. This Club was organized by the head of the Modern Language Department and has social as well as educational aims.

Crucible Club

The purpose of the organization is the study of Chemical Science, both theoretical and practical and aims to increase interest in modern applied chemistry by the study and discussion of available literature. Meetings are held every two weeks. Biographical sketches and journal reports on topics of current interest constitute a part of the program.

Orchestra

Central was admirably represented last year in the musical line by an orchestra composed of eight pieces, which furnished music for the public occasions connected with the college and also at special occasions when desired. This organization practices weekly and is highly complimented by all. It is hoped that during the coming year, even more success will attend its efforts. Let all who can play a musical instrument seek membership.

Oratory

An oratorical contest is held on the 22nd. of February and the winner of this contest is the representative of the college at the annual contest of the Inter-Collegiate Oratorical Association of Kentucky on the following second Friday in April.

An oratorical contest between the two literary societies is held annually on Monday evening of Commencement week.

The prize awarded to the successful competitor is a gold medal presented by the college.

In each of the above contests there are two contestants from each literary society selected in such a manner as the societies may determine.

Debate

The Ernst Debate between the two literary societies is held on the last Friday evening of January, each society being represented by three debaters chosen in such manner as it may be deemed proper. The Ernst prize of $75 in money is equally divided among the three debaters thus selected. The several sums are paid on the following Commencement Day and the three successful contestants constitute a team to represent the college in the next Inter-Collegiate Debate.

College Publications

The "Cento" is the College magazine and is published weekly. The editor-in-chief and manager are elected by the Round Table and the editor-in-chief selects the rest of the staff. New students are urged to subscribe early for "The Cento," so that they may be conversant with college affairs from the start. The subscription price for the year is $1.00.

The College annual "Cardinal and Blue" is published each year by the graduating class. It is a beautiful souvenir of the year, containing pictures of the faculty, buildings, organizations, teams, together with histories, stories and poems.

The "Student Handbook" is published by the Y. M. C. A. and is distributed among the students at the beginning of each session.

The "Record" is published quarterly by the faculty.

Fraternities

Six Greek letter fraternities have active chapters in the University. Their object is fraternal and as secret brotherhood they seek to ally men of one type together. Practically all of the chapters own a chapter house in which a majority of the members live.

The fraternities get in touch with a good number of Freshmen by the practice of "rushing." All advances are made by the fraternity and no one can join one except upon invitation.

If a man is asked to join he should consider the step very carefully as it is one of the most important which he can take. A man does well to be sure he knows the kind of men and the ideals of any fraternity which he considers joining, for any pledge given he is considered to keep.

On account of the intense rivalry between the fraternities and the extremes to which "rushing" is carried, there has been some attempt on the part of the students to regulate this. Last spring Pan-Hellenic was organized but it was too late to do much then, and it is hoped that much good can come from it. In order of their establishment the fraternities at Central are:

Epsilon Chapter of Beta Theta Pi. Established 1842. Colors, pink and blue

Kentucky Alpha Delta Chapter of Phi Delta Theta. Established 1850. Colors blue and white.

Zeta Zeta Chapter of Sigma Chi. Established 1876. Colors, blue and gold.

Kentucky Kappa Chapter of Sigma Alpha Epsilon. Established 1882. Colors, royal purple and old gold.

Omega Chapter of Kappa Alpha. Established in 1883. Crimson and Gold.

Iota Chapter of Delta Kappa Epsilon. Established 1884. Colors old gold, cardinal and blue.

The Carnival

The Central University Carnival is, it is said, an absolutely unique event in College life in America. It is a feature which, instituted about eleven years ago, has grown so much in interest and popularity that it now holds the most important place in the social happenings of the College year. It differs from most carnivals in that it is purely local in character and the participants are united so closely to one another in interest and fellowship that all strive each year to make it a greater success than ever before.

The Carnival comes in the latter part of the month of May and lasts three days. On Thursday night the festivities are begun by a local-talent play, the cast being composed of the Central students and several of the young ladies of the town. On Friday afternoon there is either a baseball game or a track-meet and on Friday night is the great Carnival ball. Each fraternity has a booth, made attractive and inviting by all the arts of decoration, where refreshments are served and the young ladies entertained.

Saturday is the busy day. In the morning the tennis finals take place. At noon the parade of decorated vehicles starts in which the young ladies with only "C" men as their escorts take part. The parade ends at the ball park where a baseball game is played, a game which usually decides the State Championship. All this is but a preparation for the great gala night which begins at seven thirty and terminates at eleven thirty with the crowning of the King and Queen, chosen from the student body and from the young ladies of the town respectively. Each fraternity again has a booth on the campus and from these booths anything from a dish of ice cream to a throw at the nigger babies may be obtained. Here joy reigns supreme. The whole night is a round of merriment and mirth and provides a fitting climax to the most enjoyable three days in the yearly life at Centre College.

Pointers

Be an "all around" man.
Don't be a loafer.
Show your college spirit.
Join a literary society.

Don't be a grind.
Every man should attend the athletic events.

The college colors are Cardinal and Blue.

When homesick or "blue" mix with the boys.

The chapel is not the place for any sort of "rough-house."

Don't be afraid to let it be known if you are a Christian.

Habit forms the index to a man's character.

Become a member of the Y. M. C. A. at once and enroll in one of the Bible study groups.

Victory is not the aim, but the reward of merit in athletics.

Take no part in college politics. There is enough outside of college.

Your brilliance alone will never "put you through" in your studies. It takes application.

Be sure to subscribe for the college publications.

The annual flag rush between the Freshmen and Sophomore classes is held on the campus in May.

Freshmen are supposed to conform to the rules laid down by the Sophomore class.

Buy an athletic association ticket and attend all the games, be a "booster" and not a "knocker."

Go to church, it won't hurt you and it may do you some good.

Patronize the advertisers in this Handbook. Without their assistance this book would be impossible.

Get into athletics for your own sake and the honor of the University. If you can't make the team, attend the games and show your spirit by rooting hard.

Try and have some of your friends here for the Carnival. They will have a good time and the college makes a good appearance then.

Remember that as a new student you are soon "sized up." Also remember that you are not the only new man. There will be others.

College life is a transitional period in a man's life.

Time well spent then will mean much hereafter.

College Yells

Our yells are to be classed with our college tradition. To a new student their real value is unknown, but suffice to say that from time immemorial they have been the means of turning the tide of defeat and bringing victory to the "Cardinal and Blue." In order that they may be perpetrated, each new student should remember them perfectly.

College Songs

The college songs used at games change so from year to year that a complete list is impossible. The following were among the most popular ones used last year:

No. 1—Tune of "John Brown's Body."

- I. Old C. U. comes marching on the field,
Old C. U. comes march-
ing on the field,
Old C. U. comes march-
ing on the field,
And the bleachers yell
with joy.
Glory, Glory to Old Central,
Glory, Glory to Old Central,
Glory, Glory to Old Central,
And the bleachers yell with joy.

Chorus

- II. Old C. U. Goes bucking
thru the line.

Chorus

- III. Old C. U. Goes running 'round the end.

Chorus

- IV. Old State College lies moulding in the grave.

Chorus

- No. 2—(Tune for "Hot Time") Cheer, boys cheer, Old Central's got the ball,
We'll win this game or play
no more this fall,
When we hit that line

there'll be no line at all.
There'll be a hot time in Danville tonight, my baby.

No. 3—(Tune of "Shame on
You.")

Old State College, shame on you, you just wait 'till we get thru.

You can play well now and then,

But you've got no show with Central's men.

When they get to rambling about

They'll soon be put down and out

Then you'll find your friends will shout

Shame on you!

No. 4—"Tune Marseillise.")

Old Central marches ever on,

On to victory and to glory.

Loud cheers ring out from all round

To proclaim that same old story

Ever bold, as of old, guard
her honor,

On the field, never yield, win
her fame.

Hats off to Old C. U.

'To the Cardinal and the Blue!

With heads uncovered and
hearts beating true,

Hoorah! for Old C. U.!
