COURSE OF STUDY.

The regular Institute Course of Study covers a period of four years. This is preceded by a Preparatory Course, occupying more or less time according to the capacity and the diligence of the pupil. Throughout the entire course, advancement from class to class depends upon qualification.

STUDIES IN THE PREPARATORY DEPARTMENT.

Spelling and Reading.
Penmanship.
Mental and Written Arithmetic.
Mason's 2d Geography.
Warren's Common School Geography.
Perley's Universal History.
Butler's Grammar begun.

INSTITUTE COURSE.

FIRST CLASS.

Ray's Third Arithmetic continued.
Butler's Grammar completed.
Goodrich's History of the United States.

Ray's Third Arithmetic completed.
Quackenbush' First Lessons in Composition.
Goodrich's History of the United States completed.

SECOND CLASS.

Holmes's Algebra commenced.
Goodrich's History of England.
Peet's Natural Philosophy begun.

Holmes's Algebra completed.
History of England completed.
Natural Philosophy completed.
Warren's Physical Geography.

JUNIOR CLASS.

Lee's Modern History begun.
 Quackenbush' Rhetoric.
 Foster's Chemistry.
 Hall's Manual of English Literature.

Modern History completed.
 Carter's New Analytic Anatomy, Physiology, &c.
 Wood's Botany, latest edition.

SENIOR CLASS.

Haven's Mental Science.
 Deane Lagrange's Geometry.
 Alexander's Evidence of Christianity.
 Guizot's History of Civilization.

Alexander's Moral Science.
 Brewster's Astronomy.
 Butler's Analogy or Paley's Natural Theology.

OPTIONAL STUDIES.

Trigonometry, Latin, French, German, Italian, Spanish.

EXERCISES THROUGHOUT THE COURSE.

Reading, Spelling, Penmanship, Composition, Vocal Music, &c.

An examination of this Course will show that it has been carefully arranged. One study prepares the way for another, and the most difficult branches are placed last,—two entirely optional, but all neglected rules.

Double the number of branches might have been inserted in the curriculum, but at the cost of superficiality in the learner. Only half of the time now bestowed on each branch could then have been devoted to it.

TEXT-BOOKS.

In the Departments of Ancient and Modern Languages and the Fine Arts.

Bullion's Latin Grammar.
 Bullion's Latin Reader.
 Bullion's or Arthur's Greek.
 Anson's Sallust, Virgil, Cicero's Orations.

Fauquell's French Course.
 Pajol and Van Norman's French Course.
 Baver's Exercises.
 Piccini.
 Elizabeth on les Alpes de Sibérie.
 Corriani ou l'Italie.
 Fuxen's (Mandelhoff's) Method in Italian.

INSTRUMENTAL MUSIC.

Berlin's Method for the Piano-forte.
 Richardson's Method for the Piano-forte.
 Mason and Hoadley's Piano Instructor.
 Carey's Studies, or Studies in Velocity.
 Heller's Studies.
 Works of Beethoven, Mendelssohn, and Chopin.
 Carter's, Kuhn's and Zander's Organ Schools.

VOCAL MUSIC.

Methods of Rossini, Garcia, Cook and Lablache.
 Cimara's Exercises—Mezzo-soprano and Soprano.
 Varni's Vocal Method.
 Bonaldi's Exercises for the Voice.

Pupils having any of the above books, would do well to bring them, and thus save unnecessary expense.

GENERAL REMARKS.

LOCATION, &c.

THE Institute is situated on the south side of Lexington Avenue, in the northeastern part of the town. The grounds contain nearly seven acres, and the site is high, dry and remarkably healthful. Danville is in the midst of an extremely lovely region of country, and has long been noted for its various institutions of learning. It is easily accessible from the South and West by the Lebanon Branch of the Louisville and Nashville Railroad; South Danville Station being only four miles distant and connected with Danville by daily stage over a terrific road. Passengers coming from the North and East leave the cars at Nicholasville, and come thence to Danville by daily stage, twenty-two and a half miles, through a beautiful and romantic country and over a very superior macadamized road. Persons starting in the morning from Louisville, Lebanon Junction or Cincinnati, arrive at our door at three or six P. M.

BUILDINGS AND ACCOMMODATIONS.

The buildings were originally designed for a first-class Boarding School and, with the furniture and grounds, cost nearly thirty thousand dollars. All the apartments are heated by steam radiators, lighted with gas, supplied with water from pipes, and furnished in the most complete and comfortable manner. The chambers in the front building have three occupants each; those in the ell building only two. They are all provided with carpets, burnish, tables, wardrobes or large closets, venetian blinds, gas chandeliers or brackets, spring mattresses, and most of them with single beds. No similar institution in the United States has more comfortable or even elegant appointments. Persons who had traveled extensively in Europe, have told us that they had seen there nothing superior, if indeed equal to our arrangements.

The Chapel or Study Hall, some eighty feet long by fifty feet wide and twenty feet high, is supplied with very durable and handsome single desks and chairs of oak, and a first-rate twelve-stop pipe Organ from the celebrated factory of E. G. and C. Hook, Boston. In the way of Apparatus we have a Fine Electrical Machine, Swan's and Grove's Galvanic Batteries, Daniell's Carbon Pile, a double-action Air Pump, a Compound Blow-pipe, Leyden Jars, a varied assortment of Chemicals, Retorts, Thermometers, Electro-Magnetic Machines, a very delicate Thomas-Electric Arch, Microscope and specimens, Mechanical Powers, Maps, Botanical and Physiological Charts, &c., &c. Also, in the Medical Department fifteen Plines. In the Painting Room, Engrs, Drawing-Table and Models. A spacious coach, with seats for twenty-four persons, conveys the boarding pupils to church on Sunday, and on occasional excursions Saturday evening.

We have added to the Apparatus a handsome pair of twelve inch Globes, a Map of Palestine, and a beautiful Map of Bible Lands, published by T. Nelson & Co., Edinburgh.

LIBRARY OF THE INSTITUTE.

An elegant book case has been erected in the east hall of the front building, and a number of standard works have been purchased for the Library—among them, the complete works of Washington Irving, in twenty-six volumes; Goldsmith, in four volumes; Prescott, in fifteen volumes; Tasso's Jerusalem, the Eneid, the Iliad, the Odyssey; Miss Strickland's Queen of England, in seven volumes; Chambers' Miscellanies, in seven volumes; Marzhey's England, five volumes.

We would solicit contributions, in either money or books, from the former pupils of the school and the friends of education generally. Historical, practical, belle-lettres, or philosophical works, any or all will be acceptable. Many such are now lying idle on shelves here and there; send them to us, and we will endeavor to make them abundantly useful, as they will be accessible to generation after generation of readers.

If this Catalogue should be so fortunate as to fall under the eye of some munificent patron of education, the building of an additional book-case and filling it with five hundred or one thousand volumes would perpetuate his name as a benefactor. In the Northern States gifts of this kind are quite common, and in amounts very much larger than that suggested.

HEALTH.

Our aim has been to furnish to the public a boarding school, at which the health of the inmates would not deteriorate, but improve; and in many cases this most desirable end has been attained. Very few visits from physicians are ever needed by either teachers or pupils, and some tender constitutions have been invigorated firm during their stay in the school.

Daily exercise in the open air, in the company of a teacher, is required of all the pupils whenever the weather is suitable. It is enjoined upon them all to pre-vide themselves with substantial walking shoes, India rubber sandals, and an ample supply of flannel underwear for winter.

Regular hours, an abundance of wholesome food, pure clean water, thorough ventilation, and that attention to the young people entrusted to our care, which is the result of ten years' experience, have produced many gratifying hygienic results. Our locality is remarkably free from malaria. The winters are mild; the Springs and Falls delightful. When our pupils return home for their vacations, and particularly Christmas holidays with their irregular hours, their dissipation and their exposure to cold or wet weather, their one work in building up their constitutions is thrown back, and we are glad if we can repair the damage in one, two or even three months' time.

DIPLOMAS.

Those who pass satisfactory examinations in the full course of English Studies, and have been in regular attendance during at least the entire Senior Year of the Institute, will be entitled to Diplomas.

Except in very peculiar cases and by special agreement with the Principal, students from abroad are required to board in the Institute. We can say no HELLO WHATSOEVER FOR THE SCHOLARSHIP OR THE DEPARTMENT OF BOARDING LADIES WHO ARE NOT UNDER THE CONTROL OF EITHER PARENTS OR TEACHERS.

A Sabbath-school is conducted by the Principal and the Assistant Teachers for the benefit of the boarding pupils, and the school is opened with divine worship every morning.

Quite a number of our pupils have from time to time united with the church. May the blessing of a Covenant-Keeping God ever rest upon the Institution, and may no year elapse without copious effusions of spiritual influence!

Subordinate to this, but still very important is the improvement of the manners. Pupils are expected to cultivate the habits of refined society. Quiet gentility and womanly modesty are perpetually inculcated. This is not the place to learn the false and unscriptural notion of "woman's rights," of which modern infidelity prides so much.

A GOULD HAT will be given to the young lady whose behavior during the year has been most satisfactory. In June, 1871, this honor was conferred upon Miss Lu Bess McKeary, of Lebanon, Ky.

DRESS AND POCKET MONEY.

Parents are requested not to supply their daughters with costly apparel, gold watches and chains, and expensive jewelry,—all of which are out of place in a school. Personal notices, however, are entered so highly that a GOLD MEDAL will be presented to the meritorious young lady in our boarding department. Also, one to the young lady whose chamber has been kept most tidy. In June, 1871, the former medal was awarded to Miss ELLA RENTHOLD, of Fern Land, Ky., and the latter to Miss LUTIA BALOWEA, of Mayville, Ky.

Pupils are not allowed to keep pocket money except in very small amounts. The Principal will not be held in any sense responsible for any moneys not deposited with him. Sums considered suitable by the parents or guardians, will be received and receipted for, deposited in the bank, and paid out to the pupils as they may have need. The Principal would also beg of parents and guardians never to send money to pupils except by checks, drafts, or registered letters; he is unwilling to convey letters of whose proven or former pecuniary contents he is wholly ignorant.

VISITING AND CORRESPONDENCE.

Going to parties and receiving visits from young gentlemen are positively forbidden. Parents, guardians and other suitable visitors will confer a favor by not calling during school hours; this is a serious annoyance to us, and an injury to the scholars. The proper hours for calling are from three and a half to six P. M., from Monday to Friday, and any time of the day on Saturday. We do not desire visits on the LORD'S DAY, which should be kept holy.

Parents should furnish us lists of those persons with whom they wish their daughters to correspond. The Principal considers it his duty not to permit dissuading novels and pictorial newspapers to come into the Institution; he wishes Cabrell Institute to be a fountain of pure and sacred influence.

LITTLE BOYS.

The boys connected with our Literary Department are all in the Smaller Classes, and are usually leaders of our other pupils. The public will understand that in its character ours is strictly a female school.

EXPRESS PACKAGES.

Parents sending these will confer a favor by prepaying the charges.

Diploma fee, to graduates.....	3 00

No charge for church singing. Considerable gratuitous instruction is given in this branch.

Half the above charges payable strictly in advance; the other half on February 24, 1871.

From the schedule of prices it will be seen that $500 per year will defray all the expenses for board, fuel, lights, washing and tuition. Cheaper schools can be found by those who desire them; but in the end the amount saved on the daughter's education will prove to be trivial, larger sums being often squandered on a single evening's entertainment, or expended in regaining, or vainly seeking to regain lost health. Far more costly schools can be found by those whose taste lies in that direction, but we think parents can safely calculate that their children will have better accommodations, more comfort, more personal attention, and better facilities for education here, than in many schools where the yearly charges are for $500 to $1,000.

The daughters of Ministers of the Gospel will be taken at reduced prices.

Boarding pupils will be received at any time, but will be charged from that time to the end of the scholastic year in June, 1871. Those entering during the month of September, 1870, will be charged from the beginning. On and after October 1st, the charge will be from the date of entry to June 1st, 1871, unless otherwise specially contracted for in the outset and for reasons satisfactory to us. We do not desire and will not receive boarding pupils, except in compliance with this regulation. No deduction will be made for withdrawal from the school, especially during the last month, unless in case of sickness protracted for five weeks. No well regulated school can offer a provision so disreputable, insolent or capricious.

NOTE.—Each pupil is expected to provide herself with necessary toilet articles, towels, table-napkins, silver fork and teaspoon, and to have every article of her clothing distinctly marked with her full name. Also, to have an umbrella, a pair of stout walking shoes, and a pair of India rubber sandals. A water-proof cloak is very desirable.

CALENDAR.

1872.

September 2—Commencement of School Year.....Monday.
 December 25—Christmas Holidays begin.....Saturday.
 December 30, '72—School resumes.....Monday.

1873.

June 15th—Public examination and Graduating Exercises.....Wednesday,
 Thursday and Friday.

Instead of the public examinations hitherto held at the middle of the scholastic year, classes will be examined privately from time to time in various branches in the presence of the Principal and the Trustees.

CLOSING REMARKS.

Six years have sped away since with a hesitating hand we accepted the charge of this school. Providence still smiles upon our labors. Notwithstanding the comparative prostration of the agricultural interests of our State during the past year, we have succeeded in raising the number of pupils up to 170.

I. HEALTH.

Two professional visits from physicians, and only two have been received by our boarding pupils. One of these two proved to be an unnecessary precaution, and no prescription was made. The fact is that our location is pre-eminently healthful, and if a young lady comes to us with any health at all, we can almost guarantee its continuance and improvement—under the Divine blessing, of course, and with any prudence on her part.

This ought to be deemed a matter deserving the careful consideration of parents. Of what avail will the most finished education be to your daughter, if it is purchased at the sacrifice of health?

II. THE LIBRARY.

About fifty volumes have been added to the Library, among them Appleton's Cyclopedia, in 16 large 8vo. volumes; Motley's Works, in 7 volumes, and Miss Parker's Latin NEW, in 2 volumes. Also Worcester's Pundicled Dictionary, which we prefer to Webster's in orthography. Will our old pupils and friends of the school, and the friends of female education in general, add us so far as to send, each of them, one volume to this library? A similar appeal in behalf of another Danville institution has been handsomely responded to.

3. HOME INFLUENCE.

As we allow our pupils the most unrestricted correspondence with parents and guardians, judicious persons will of course remember the allowance useful to be made for the occasional whims of young people. If anything is communicated to you worthy of attention, just drop us a note of inquiry or friendly intimation.

We have undertaken to conduct an honest, genuine school, where the minds, morals and manners of young ladies shall be benefited. Sometimes a little discipline is requisite here as in every well regulated family. Ninety-nine times in a hundred we have been sustained by the powers at home when they had learned all the facts. Parents, we are honestly and gratefully seeking to promote your daughter's true and highest welfare. When your children are placed under our care, we consider them a sacred trust. Co-operate with us in the good work of training up these dear young people for usefulness and honor here, and for glory hereafter.

HOW YOU CAN DO HARM.

Damage can be done by attaching importance to every little expression of dissatisfaction in the letters of your children. Remember, there has never been more than one Paradise on earth, and our best parents, though in a state of primal innocence, were become discontented. In this beautiful month of June, our Institute generally seems almost as Eden, but we do not expect perfect joy and satisfaction to reign.

Harm can be done by sending your daughters here with a money or less distinct promise that if they desire it, you will remove them in the middle of the year, when the second payment falls due. Please remember that we do not receive pupils on such terms. Oblige us by sending them somewhere else. If their health should fail—which by the way we are not afraid of—then at any time of the year take them home. But as to our leaving pupils who are even and now talking about quitting without any good reason,—that is an imposition on our good nature that we really cannot stand.

Finally, harm can be done by requesting us to comply with the wishes of your daughters as to studies and examinations. They resort to you after us, who are on the ground and understand the whole case, have refused to accede to their demands. Any suggestions looking to the real improvement of our pupils will be thankfully received. We want all the light we can get, but no unwise and harmful interference. Repose a reasonable trust in us, and we do not think you will be disappointed.
