CALDWELL FEMALE COLLEGE.

The object of this College, located at Danville, Kentucky, is the higher education of women. It appeals to the common-sense and growing conviction that our daughters have as deep an interest in accurate and extensive knowledge as our sons. It will continually seek, therefore, to supply to its students the means of the broadest literary and scientific culture, believing that whatever mental discipline is regarded as needful to the usefulness and happiness of men, is to the same extent and for the same reasons equally needful to women.

Danville has long been noted for its educational advantages, its healthful location, and the refinement, intelligence and morality of its people. It is accessible by the Cincinnati Southern Railroad and the Lebanon branch of the Louisville & Nashville Railroad. Besides these there are eight macadamized roads entering the city.

THE COLLEGE BUILDING

Is situated on Lexington Avenue, nearly opposite the grounds where the old building was burned. The house is commodious, cheerful and attractive—built of brick, with three stories above a good basement; also, a delightful Chapel and recitation-rooms besides.

The apartments are newly fitted up and are well ventilated and pleasant. The grounds embrace six acres, and are eminently eligible on account of beauty, healthfulness and freedom from all surroundings prejudicial to a female school. A more delightful location could scarcely have been found. The large yard in front, shaded by tall forest trees, invites pleasant recreation to students, and is a very attractive feature of the grounds.

We offer ourselves to the parents of Kentucky and surrounding States to help them to educate their daughters; for to them, primarily, is committed this holy work—and with their patronage and co-operation we are sure to attain the great end in view.

SPECIAL POINTS.

1. To train the mind for independent thought and to instruct thoroughly.
2. To teach self-government, which is the basis of good conduct.
3. To require lady-like deportment of every pupil at all times.
4. To train to habitual neatness—both in person and surroundings.
5. To guard the health of boarders by protecting them from exposure, supplying them with wholesome food, and requiring judicious exercise in pure air.

Our Collegiate Course of Study has been selected with great care, embracing those branches which are essential to develop thought, train the mind, and prepare young ladies for any position in life, and covers as many branches as young ladies of good talent can master in four years, even without Latin.

Being deeply impressed with the importance of laying a good foundation if we would build a beautiful and enduring superstructure, we give special attention to Preparatory and Primary work. As these departments ordinarily receive but little attention in schools of the higher order of learning, we earnestly invite attention to the prominence we give them. And when scholars that have begun their education in our Primary Department shall have completed the whole course, we are sure that parents and friends will be delighted with their training.

ELOCUTION,

Both theoretical and practical—to the end of making good readers is a part of the regular course.

CALESTHENICS AND GYMNASTICS

Have their proper place for exercise and physical development.

MUSIC AND OTHER EXTRA BRANCHES.

In this Department we have the very best facilities for giving instruction on the Piano, Guitar and Organ; also, Vocal Culture and practice in Chorus Singing, and every effort will be made to make pupils thorough in this divine art.

In Greek, Modern Languages, Drawing and Painting—in Oil and Water Colors—we offer first-class teachers.

EXAMINATIONS.

We have four written examinations each year, and by the per cent. in these and the daily recitations the scholarship of each pupil is designated. In these frequent examinations pupils are able to find their own deficiency in time to bring it up and thus avoid falling behind their class at the end. Every pupil must attend these examinations in order to pass.

REPORTS.

A report, showing the standing of his daughter, in deportment, attendance, diligence and scholarship, will be sent to each parent and guardian after every examination.

DAMAGES.

Every pupil must pay for the repairing of any damage she may do to furniture or property.

ABSENCE.

Parents are particularly requested to guard against allowing their daughters—either for seemingly great or small matters—to remain out of school, as much valuable time is thus lost, and it always distracts from their interest in their studies. In short, absence is so detrimental that it can not be allowed without written authority from parents or guardians. And no deductio is made for absence, except in cases of positive illness protracted one month or more.

GOVERNMENT.

Our government is gentle, but firm—such as does not destroy the self-respect of the pupil while excellent order is preserved. To our success in this important point we invite attention.

RELIGIOUS.

The school is opened daily with devotional exercises in the Chapel, consisting of reading the Scriptures, singing, prayer, and, sometimes, a brief exposition and application of the truths read.

All the pupils boarding in the College are expected to attend church, with the President, at least once every Sabbath, unless sick; or, under proper care, they may attend any other church designated by parents or guardians.

Every Sabbath afternoon all the boarders meet with the President and teachers and spend one hour in the study of the Bible. Bible History and Geography will be a regular study.

BOARDING.

Pupils from a distance ought to board in the Institution, and must do so or we cannot be responsible for their progress in studies. We therefore urge parents, who desire their daughters to study, to put them in the Institution, where everything is directed to that one end. ADVANTAGES.—1. Systematic hours for study and recreation, and protection against interruption by company and many other things common to private families. 2. Regular attendance in all kinds of weather, without exposure. 3. The watchful care and counsel of the lady teachers in all the details of general deportment and social etiquette.

OUTFIT.

Each boarder must bring a Bible, a dictionary, an umbrella or gossamer waterproof, a pair of thick shoes and sandals for walking, napkins, napkin-ring, towels and other necessary toilet articles. Every article should be distinctly and indelibly marked with the owner's name in full. No arbitrary law of dress is adopted, but neatness, good taste and economy are recommended.

VISITORS.

Parents and other friends are invited and always welcome to the class-rooms and other exercises of the College. Strangers calling upon young ladies will please bring letters of introduction to the President from their parent or guardian.

☞ Saturday afternoons from one to five o'clock are set apart to receive those permitted to call upon them.

CORRESPONDENCE.

Young ladies desiring to write to persons outside their immediate families must bring a list of such names to the President from their parent or guardian.

POCKET MONEY.

Parents furnishing their daughters with any considerable amount of money should deposit it with the President or other suitable person. This will be a security against pilfering, which sometimes occurs in such establishments, and will also be a check to extravagance. But we earnestly request that pupils be not furnished with unnecessary spending money, as it engenders habits of extravagance which we desire to discourage.

EXPENSES FOR HALF OF SCHOOL YEAR.

Tuition, Board, Fuel and Lights, if paid strictly in advance, (i. e. when the pupil is entered and at the middle of the year, —Jan. 26)	$100 00
If not,	110 00

Painting in Water Colors,	25 00
" Oil,	25 00
Incidentals	2 00
Washing from $1.50 to $2.00 per month.

Please take notice, that some catalogues have apparently lower terms than ours, but the various little charges make the bill larger.

SPECIAL NOTICES.

(1.) It is very important that pupils be in the College on the opening day of the session—that they may be ready to start with their classes—and because no deduction will be made for any delay in entering during the first month of the session.

(2.) Early application for board will secure choice of rooms, but no room can be kept for absentees, unless all charges for half the session have been paid.

(3.) When a pupil is matriculated she is board for the session at full price—unless by special agreement, and such agreement will be broken by the patron if payment is not made in strict accordance with the specified terms.

(4.) Payment for board, tuition, etc., is due and must be made as soon as a scholar is matriculated. This is absolutely necessary to the success of the school, and is, we are fully persuaded, best for both parties.

(5.) A pupil admitted on any condition will be charged for not less than a month.

(6.) All patrons are bound by the terms of the Catalogue, unless by special agreement.

(7.) Pupils will be taken, when circumstances require it, as low as any other similar female institution.

DIPLOMAS.

Those desiring to graduate must pass satisfactory examinations on the regular Collegiate Course of Studies, or its equivalent.

Parents will see by reference to our charges and work, that our prices are as low as the lowest of our best female colleges and our work equal to the best. In our school they receive for their daughters thorough education, fitting them for usefulness and self-support, as well as religious, physical, social and mental culture, and all the advantages of a well-conducted home.

CONGRATULATORY.

We have succeeded equal to our most sanguine expectations in these first three years of our management of Caldwell College. Our success in every respect is declared by our patrons and those who have taken the time to visit our schools.

Our system is not perfect, but we propose from time to time to add improvements, and by faithful endeavor we hope to merit the continued confidence and enlarged patronage of the people.

WANTS OF CALDWELL COLLEGE.

All the furniture, books, apparatus, etc., having been lost by the burning of the old building, we appeal to those who love their Alma Mater and desire its future emicence, as well as to the liberal friends of female education everywhere, to speedily supply these wants. Any contributions in the way of

Books for the Library,
Articles to the Scientific Department,
Works of Art for the Art Gallery,
Specimens for Cabinet, or money

To be used for such objects, will be thankfully acknowledged, and may be deposited with the Treasurer of the Board of Trustees in trust for the College.

An Alumni Association of the "old Caldwell" has been formed, and will meet in social reunion at the College building, on Commencement Day of 1886.

CALENDAR, 1884-85.

The Session begins	Wednesday, September 3.
At Thanksgiving, two days holiday.
Christmas Holidays begin,	Tuesday noon, December 23.
School resumed,	Monday, January 4.
Session ends,	Wednesday, June 2.

We have not divided our session into terms, as it is more convenient not to close many of the studies just at the middle of the year, and pupils are received for the school year from the date of entrance.
